

LAPD Boosters Cycle Ride Raises $6,700 for Charity

■ More than 100 riders participated in the first Central City Police Boosters Charity Motorcycle Ride Sunday, Aug. 3.

The ride started at the Police Academy in Elysian Park.

"More than 100 riders participated in the scenic ride through Los Angeles," said LAPD Officer Marie Kardiban.

"Riders joined walk in participates for a fun-filled afternoon with festivities that included three bands from KLOS, a barbecue, prize give-a-ways, bike vendors and information booths from many city entities.

"The ride was a huge success for the first year raising about $6,700 for the youth and crime prevention programs of the Los Angeles Police Department Central Community Police Station," she said.

"You won't want to miss next year's ride." 🏍️

Below are photos from the event:

Representing LAPD Communications and LAPD Recruitment were, from left: Officer Anthony Jackson, Latrice Jones, Officer Darryl Scales and Kathy Schamber.

From LAPD Central, from left: Officer Craig Rensch, Officer Larry Pratt and Danny Young, CPAB.

Representing SID Latent Prints were (from left) Alex R. Reutita and Jose Torres with his daughter, Samantha.

From Fire Station 20, from left: Blake Fair, George Clock, Sheldon Beverly and Don Witty.

Central Explorers, from left: Maria Gonzalez, Rebeca Martinez, Manuel Ramirez, Beatriz Batrez and Steve Candelario, adviser.

Central Traffic Division's Officer Randy Fontyn.

Representing SWAT, from left: Jeff Tepich and Wil Wong.

Jim Mc Laughlin, Bomb Squad Reserve Officer.

LAPD Volunteers, from left: Daisy Barajas and Patricia Bligen.

From left: Sgt. Greg Macias, Central Area Community Relations Office; Judy Rabineau, MICA; Denny Rabineau, MICA; Dennis Needleman, Eagles Nest Real Estate; Officer Marie Kardiban, Central Area Community Relations Office; and Steve Diner, Central Area Volunteer.

LAPD Central, from left: Officer Taylor, Cathy Susin, Officer Lenoue, Angie Anfuso and Priscilla Chavez.

Leave your Car at Home

Drive one of ours during the day instead.

Flexcar has more than 25 Honda Civic Hybrids throughout the Los Angeles area. Each one comes with its own premium reserved parking spot. You can drive one when you need one.

Flexcar pays for gas, insurance, maintenance and parking. You pay about $9-$10 bucks an hour. That's it.

Many of our cars are conveniently located near you:

- World Trade Center
- 2nd & Los Angeles St.
- 4th & Broadway

Park your commuting woes. Use Flexcar.

Special offer for City Employee Club members—join for only $15. Join online at www.flexcar.com & enter D-15-CEC in the promo field.

