HARBOR — On May 9, at the San Pedro Elks Lodge, which offered a panoramic view of the impressive Port of Los Angeles complex, the Harbor Department recognized 143 employees who achieved perfect attendance last year. The luncheon was hosted by Martin Chavez, Human Resources Development Officer, who shared Executive Director Geraldine Knatz's appreciation to the employees for their outstanding attendance record and pride in doing their job to make the Port of Los Angeles one of the world's premier ports.

Three employees were presented a Port logo jacket for accomplishing ten consecutive years of perfect attendance: Anthony Gioiello and George Ivcevic from the Engineering Division, and Kurt Ramirez from Construction.

Western Medical Group donated two pairs of field-level seats to the upcoming Angels vs. Dodgers games at Dodger Stadium. The winners were Al Murguia, Treasury Management and Ping Lit, Construction and Maintenance Division. The Pallagio Day Spa in Torrance donated a gift certificate won by Mark Weisenberger, Purchasing and Contracts, and the City Employees Club donated two pairs of Angels game tickets won by Leo Cabrera, C&M, and George Ivcevic, Engineering; two City logo watches were garnered by Kai Wong, Purchasing and Contracts, and Ponce Rongavilla, Engineering; dinner for two at the new Pirate Adventure Theater in Buena Park was won by Shao Yu Shao of the Construction Division. The Club also unveiled their new City T-shirts, which were won by Kirby Real, C&M; Al Rosario, Port Police; Bent Christiansen, Port Pilots; and Rocki Walker, Human Resources.

However the highlight of the event was the drawing for eight $500 prizes. To qualify for the drawing, an employee could not have been absent from work more than 18 hours during the 2005 calendar year. Two-hundred and three employees qualified for the drawing won by: Patricia Perka, Executive Offices; Jamie Munoz, Engineering; Mort Rowghani, Engineering; Sal Zambrano, Engineering; Danny Domingo, Port Pilots; Manuel Esparza, Construction; Heather Burns and Chris Bobo from the City Attorney's Office.

Everyone had a great time and we look forward to having more Harbor Department employees join us for next year's event.

Congratulations to all those whose dedication, determination and good health were recognized at the luncheon.
