PUBLIC WORKS

Exploring Opportunities To Work With Sanitation Dept.

Sanitation hosts an 'Exploring Business Opportunities' networking program for contractors.

Story by Shari Kuroki, Public Works; Photos by Noelle Kauffman, Club Counselor

On Aug. 17, Public Works/Sanitation held a business networking event in the Tom Bradley Room of City Hall. The event was titled "Exploring Business Opportunities with the PW/Bureau of Sanitation."

Many businesses throughout the City shared in the Bureau's excitement and were able to learn of the various contracting opportunities throughout the Bureau, the City contracting process and how to become certified as a minority, women, small, emerging, or disabled veteran business enterprise, as well as network with other businesses in the region.

More than 100 representatives were in attendance from various industries, including environmental consulting, construction, hauling, and public relations. Presentations by the Bureau of Sanitation, the Mayor's Office of Economic and Business Policy, the Bureau of Contract Administration, and Merriwether and Williams Insurance Services were just a few of the highlights of the evening. Representatives from currently contracted firms were also present to share of their own experiences working with the City. Not only did the Bureau receive an overwhelmingly positive response and an increase in registration with the LA Business Assistance Virtual Network, a request has already been made for future business networking events with the Bureau of Sanitation.
